Comprehension Skills

1. Nimai was Shyamala's best friend during her illness.
2. Shyamala's grandfather had planted a tree on the day their family first entered their new house. Since then, Nimai has been a part of their family life.
3. Grandpa used to have his tea and breakfast under the tree. He loved to see the neem flowers appearing in March, the air carrying their fragrance, and the greenish-yellow fruit ripening during the summer.
4. Shyamala's grandpa sits under his favourite tree from early morning until almost mid-day in every season. He used to have his tea and breakfast there. Grandma kept dried neem leaves in books and clothes to protect them. In this way, Nimai had become a part of their family life.

5. Shyamala couldn't believe her ears because her mother told us about cutting the tree, Nimai.
6. A powerful bolt of lightning had struck the tree. If Nimai had not been there, her father might have been hurt. Nimai had come to the rescue like a true friend.
7. Shyamala brought a neem sapling with her when she returned after a long time.
8. Trees are good friends, so we should plant trees.

Thinking Skills

Trees are very important for our environment. They produce oxygen, clean the air, and provide habitat for animals. When we cut trees, we are harming the environment. We have less oxygen, more pollution, and animals lose their homes. Here are some ways we can save our environment:

- Plant trees.
- Recycle paper and wood products.
- Reduce our consumption of paper and wood products.
- Support sustainable forestry practices.

Writing Skills

Imagine a world where the sky is filled with the joyful chirps and bright colours of birds. They soar through the air, chasing the wind and dancing on sunbeams. Birds aren't meant for cages. They're meant to fly across meadows, build cosy nests in branches, and greet the sunrise with a chorus of songs. Keeping them locked away is like silencing a melody, dimming a rainbow, and stopping a story before it even begins. Let their wings carry them back to the freedom they deserve, and let their songs fill the sky once again. Remember, even though we can't show cruelty or sadness, we can still highlight the joy of birds being free and the beauty they bring to the world. Keep it positive and focus on the wonders of nature!

3. Earth and sun and wind and rain
Turn to gold the living grain.
- C. 1. worth, birth, berth
2. blow, slow, flow
3. pain, main, vain

Thinking Skills

Earth is called mother because it provides us life just like a mother. Without air, water, and sunlight, plants will die, affecting animals and humans who rely on them for food and oxygen. Our planet will suffer.

Writing Skills

A plant starts from a seed. When you plant a seed in the ground, it needs water, sunlight, and warmth to grow. The seed will sprout and send a root down into the soil and a shoot up towards the sky. The root will take in water and nutrients from the soil and the shoot will grow into the stem and leaves of the plant. Over time, the plant will grow bigger and stronger.

L-9 A Pot of Poison

Warm Up

Do it yourself.

Comprehension skills

- A. 1. poison

2. The king
 3. a prison
- B.
1. Lord Buddha saw a man digging the earth at a lonely spot while crossing the forest.
 2. 'His' refers to the man. He said to the lord that he wanted to share some of the treasure with him.
 3. The king called the man to inquire about the wealth and treasure.
 4. The man requested the king in a humble manner to give him a chance to meet Lord Buddha once.
 5. When the man requested the king gave him a chance to meet Lord Buddha once. When Lord Buddha visited the kingdom, he recognised the man immediately and inquired about his well-being. The man fell to his feet and related the story of his misfortune. Then Lord Buddha requested that the king forgive the man and his family. Thereafter, the man lived happily with his wife, child, and parents.
- C.
1. False; Lord Buddha thought that the pot contained poison in it.
 2. False; The man sent to the prison .
 3. True
 4. False;The king paid attention to the man's request and invited Lord Buddha to his kingdom.
 5. False;The man realized his mistake at the end .
 6. False;The king invited Lord Buddha to his kingdom.

Thinking Skills

Lord Buddha taught that desires and attachments are like poison. They may seem tempting at first, but they ultimately lead to suffering. Just like a pot of poison looks harmless but can be deadly, desires can appear attractive but cause pain and dissatisfaction. For example, a child may crave sweets, but overindulging leads to toothaches and unhealthy habits. Similarly, wanting to win at all costs can lead to cheating and hurt feelings.

Grammar

L-11 Mary Kom: The Unbeatable

Warm Up

1. PV Sindhu
2. Saina Nehwal
3. Virat Kohli
4. Neeraj Chopra

Comprehension Skills

- A. 1. Mary Kom belongs to the tribal community of India's north-eastern state, Manipur. She got her inspiration from the Manipuri male boxer named Dingko Singh. She was interested in martial arts and boxing. Since boxing was not considered the proper sport for women, initially she tried to keep her boxing interest a secret from her family. At first, she came into boxing to support her family financially. She became famous when she won the first state championship invitation to the women's boxing championship in Manipur in the year 2000 as the best boxer. Then she began to take an interest in boxing at the international level at the age of 18 and won various medals and honours.
2. She excelled at boxing using her own strategy and never let her opponent get her arms free. Her short height worked as an advantage for her. Her opponent had to run a lot in the boxing ring, which made her tired.
 3. She is the only woman to win the World Amateur Boxing Championship six times, the only female boxer to have won a medal in each one of the first seven World Championships, and the only boxer (male or female) to win eight World Championship medals.

4. She is the recipient of a variety of important Indian awards like the Padma Shri Award, Padma Vibhushan award, Arjuna Award, the Rajiv Gandhi Khel Ratna Award as well as special award from AIBA.
